DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Figures 1-3 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 2 is objected to because of the following informalities: there are two periods at the end of claim 2. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, the recitation of "the opposite vertex" in line 6, "the first two vertices" in lines 17 and 19 lacks proper antecedent basis.

Claims 2-4 are indefinite because the technical deficiencies of claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over applicant's cited prior figures 1 and 3 in view of Yoshizaki (JP 55-67234) and Yamamoto et al. (USP 6,459,598).

Applicant's cited prior art figure 1 shows a front end conditioning structure comprising a diplexer (4) connected between the pulse generator, probe and preamplifier, wherein the diplexer circuit shown in applicant's cited figure 3 except for a diode 23, a diode 24 and a resistor 25 as called for in claims 1-2.

Yoshizaki reference shows a diode bridge circuit with low loss having diodes D1 to D4 and a resistor 7 connected between vertices T3 and T4. Therefore, it would have been obvious to person skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to replace applicant's diode bridge circuit in figure 3, i.e., 13A-13D with Yoshizaki's diode bridge (diodes D1-D4 and resistor 7) for the purpose of having low loss thus preserving the integrity of the input signal.

Regarding the limitation of having diode connected in parallel with each of resistor 12 and 14, Yamamoto et al.'s figure 1 teaches that when a diode is paralledly connected with a resistor resulting a limited output current/voltage swing, thus, protecting an overheat from occurrence and reducing power dissipation. Therefore, it would have been obvious to person skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to include a diode in parallel to each resistor 12 and 14 of applicant's cited prior art figure 2 to limit current/voltage swing at the junction of diodes 13A, 13B and diodes 13C, 13D when the diodes are not conducting, thus, preventing overheat at the junctions and power dissipation.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 3-4 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. In this regard, applicant's cited prior art in the PTOL-1449 has been carefully considered.
